Safe Area

The diagram illustrates the three critical dimensions for a print-ready template. It features three horizontal double-headed arrows of different colors, each spanning the width of the page. The top arrow is purple and labeled 'Safe Area'. The middle arrow is black and labeled 'Trim Size'. The bottom arrow is red and labeled 'Bleed Size'. The arrows are nested, with the Bleed Size being the widest, followed by the Trim Size, and the Safe Area being the narrowest. The text labels are centered above their respective arrows.
